Sulphur Times-Democrat

Apr 15
2021
Page 0003
Clip resized 77%

DIGITAL NEWS TRACKING | OKLAHOMA PRESS SERVICE

Genevieve Dakour

Oklahoma School of Science And Mathematics Student Accepted Into Youth Leadership Oklahoma

Genevieve Dakour, a junior at Oklahoma School of Science and Mathematics, has been accepted into the twenty first class of Youth Leadership Oklahoma. Leadership Oklahoma selects 52 rising high school seniors through a competitive process based on proven leadership, geographic, ethnic and cultural diversity to participate in its annual Youth Leadership Oklahoma (YLOK) class program. YLOK Class 21 members plan to travel the state during a week-long trip at the end of May to learn about Oklahoma's history, culture, issues and leaders and begin to develop a greater understanding and appreciation for our state. YLOK was created in 2001 with the mission to develop in young leaders a feeling of hope, pride and a responsibility for Oklahoma's future. Over 900 students have participated in this one of a kind program.

Property of OPS News Tracker and members of the Oklahoma Press Association.